

To the Readers

Studies in International Economics is the first English language issue of the journal Külgazdaság, established in 1957. Külgazdaság traditionally publishes studies from the fields of economics and other disciplines in the Social Sciences (such as sociology, political science or law). The articles cover a wide range of themes, including economic policy, economic regulation, the economic and social transformation of the CEE region, as well as international economic relations and problems related to the EU.

Studies in International Economics contains a selection of the articles published in Külgazdaság in Hungarian. The articles have been selected with the intention of giving an overview of the topics and analyses that the authors of the journal find intriguing. There will be two English issues in 2015.

Külgazdaság is published bimonthly by the Kopint Foundation for Economic Research. Külgazdaság and Studies in International Economics is published with the support of the Hungarian National Bank.

We would like to hear what you think. Any feedback will be appreciated.
